Dear Steve Newcomb,

In the haste with which Case Open was published as you may have noticed many slight errors were not corrected.

There are two references to the full md.

The retyping is proceeding very slowly, whenever there is time from other work by the person doing it.

What it should have indicated is that in the future it will be available for study at two educational institutions. I am confident that providing xerox copies will be a practical impossibility for both of them.

The full ms. is about 200,000 words

Thanks and best wishes,

Harold Weisberg
